Continuing Updates

1. UMSU Services & Community Marketing Plans
   We have a handful of meetings set up to begin the production of marketing materials (both physical and on social media) that will help streamline the processes of accessing various UMSU Services, including the following: community initiative funding (CIF), student group funding, travel grants, and equipment.
   The launch is aimed for April, to coincide with the peak months for Student Club transition.

2. Equity, Diversity, & Inclusion (EDI)
   The dates for the EDI strategy consultation focus group meetings have all been set and can be viewed in full on the University website, as well as in Kyra’s event summary for UMSU members. For those unable to attend the EDI consultations in person or are more comfortable submitting your feedback digitally, there will also be an online link released and sent out in the next couple of weeks. However, we do encourage to attend in-person sessions to engage in the dialogue with these smaller consultation focus groups. As well, after the Robin DiAngelo lecture last Thursday, I have a follow-up meeting set up with Brandy Usick to discuss what the content delivered means for students and how we can provide a platform for students to engage in related debrief and discourse.

3. Nimbus Peer Tutoring / Exam Cram Winter 2020
   By now, the Winter midterm Exam Cram programming will have come to an end. Stay tuned for the end of March for Finals programming! As well, please feel free to reach out if you’d like to collaborate.

4. UMSU x Architecture: Wellness Space Competition
   In the next little while, Sami (Senior Stick, Architecture) and I still have a handful of meetings set up with campus planning and folks who have done extensive work in restorative spaces in the past for their insight. Stay tuned for updates on this exciting project!

5. U-Pass – Infrastructure Renewal and Public Works Committee Delegation
   Last Tuesday, Mbuli (VP Finance and Operations) and I were added to the delegation for the Infrastructure Renewal and Public Works Committee meeting of city council. At this meeting, we brought forward major contributions that the U-Pass has towards sustainability, ridership, and affordability for the student body – as well as the importance of presenting a Summer Term extension to students. During my section, I asked that the Committee move a referral to the budgetary working group and the motion was approved as a result.
