New Updates

Student Care meetings

Myself and Brendan met with Studentcare for three days last week. Discussions were had on our plan use, and what this can mean for premiums. New services were presented and discussed, further talks will take place once the new team is in office. Additions around mental health were a focus as that is where the highest usage of our plan is seen this year. Console was presented again, as was the idea of prepaid psychology. Prepaid psychology would see psychologist services being provided to students through an online means which aims to ensure zero wait time, and the ability to have multiple sessions for each “issue”.

Continuing Updates

HUB Rename

Talks continue to ramp up around the HUB’s rebranding. The name will be revealed this week, along with the grey scale version of the logo. A full reopening and relaunch will happen in fall to welcome students back to the space.

Hydroponic gardening display

The display case beside GPA’s is now displaying a hydroponic gardening display. This is the work of a graduate student to showcase sustainability in day to day life, and the ease of incorporating sustainable practices into your everyday life.
